If You're Spooky And You Know It

Synopsis

Clap your hands for this spooky, Halloween-themed twist on the classic children's song "If You're Happy and You Know It"! If you're spooky and you know it, clap your hands! If you're spooky and you know it, clap your hands! If you're spooky and you know it, and you really want to show it • if you're spooky and you know it, clap your hands! The monsters in the book all want to show how spooky they are! Filled with spooky skeletons clapping hands, wicked witches stomping feet, hairy werewolves jumping up and down, sneaky vampires nodding heads, naughty mummies snapping fingers, and creepy frankensteins honking noses, little ones will love this frightful, Halloween-themed twist on the song "If You're Happy and You Know It"!

• In this board book, Fronis has turned the familiar childhood ditty into a song for the Halloween season. Six toddlers costumed as a skeleton, a witch, a mummy, a werewolf, Frankenstein, and Dracula cavort about as each introduces a verse from the song. These include "If you're spooky and you know it," "If you're sneaky," "If you're wicked," "If you're naughty," "If you're hairy," "If you're creepy," and "If you're frightful." The actions include "clap your hands," "nod your head," "stomp your feet," "snap your fingers," "jump up and down," "honk your nose," and, finally, "dance around." With the possible exception of snapping fingers, most preschoolers will be able to mimic these actions. Though the last rhyme mentions the word frightful, none of the characters are frightening. VERDICT A fun choice to use in a storytime, especially in October. — Elaine Lesh Morgan, formerly at Multnomah County Library, Portland, OR

The classic movement song gets a thrilling twist. Nearly every child in America knows the song "If You're Happy and You Know It," and most enjoy clapping hands, stomping feet, and spinning around to its rhythm. This board book adapts that rhythm and filters it through the creepy hues of Halloween. Verses include "If you're spooky and you know, it clap your hands," "If you're naughty and you know it, snap your fingers," and "If you're hairy and you know it, jump up and down!" Each verse is accompanied by an illustration of different traditional Halloween monsters, including vampires, werewolves, and mummies, getting in on the fun. It's unclear whether the double-page spreads include multiple iterations of one monster or several separate, identical monsters. Little readers who are developmentally inclined to believe the latter may be confused when they reach the final double-page spread, which features one each of all the adorable monsters at one big Halloween party dancing together. The illustrations are colored with the usual green, purple, and orange-heavy scheme most Halloween books employ. Adults looking for an amusing way to introduce small children to the tricks and treats of Halloween will find this mostly fills the bill. A delightfully creepy spin on an old favorite. My nephew (3) and niece (2) are all about Halloween all year long. They adore this book!

If you are happy and you know it Halloween style. My son prefers this one.

This book is so fun and interactive. Baby loved it and picked up on the activities right away and started dancing around.

Purrfect for a 2 year old.

This is such a cute Halloween book for toddlers! My son loves and enjoys acting out all the parts. This book is a Halloween variation of the "If you're happy and you know it" song.

Great little Halloween book, my granddaughter likes it

Fun book that involves the child playing along. Good for 18 months-preschool age

Fun to read!! Granddaughter loves it!
