This book contains a collection of true stories written by Gavin Ehringer, a veteran rodeo writer, that chronicles the lives of 20 of the all-time best rodeo athletes, including Tuff Hedeman and Charmayne James. Start with the piece on bareback riding champ Joe Alexander and continue on through legends like Larry Mahan, Ty Murray and the phenomenal Fred Whiteman, the big-event player of pro rodeo who says he's the greatest and makes you believe it.

Great book with information on some of the very best in the sport of Rodeo.

My son has really enjoyed reading about the various people and events that they pursue in this book. Interesting to read.

Sadly, there are not a lot of books on rodeos and rodeo riders. For that reason anyone interested in this sport winds up buying whatever books are out there. But, be forewarned, do not waste your money on this book - There is nothing in it that has not been covered in the few other, better written books on the subject. It is clear that the author made little attempt at researching facts and put little effort into writing this book.

I have been in rodeo my entire life. every cowboy listed in this book is a true rodeo legend, and they did a great job covering every event. but they left out the most important person of all. the bull fighter/rodeo clown. without us you wouldn't have world champion bull riders. there are so many to choose from i just don't understand why there weren't any listed in this book. if your looking for a book about the real legends of rodeo you need to read greasepaint matadors.

Nothing new or interesting here. It is almost like the author did a google search and then copied and pasted information together to make this book.What a waste.
